PRESS RELEASE

Amsterdam, 20 April 2009

PROMOTIONS AT INTERCONTINENTAL AMSTEL AMSTERDAM

Hendrik Bosch, General Manager of the InterContinental Amstel Amsterdam, has appointed Denise Cibert and Dorien Smit to, respectively, Food & Beverage Manager and Rooms Division Manager of the Amstel Hotel. In her new position, Cibert will take ultimate responsibility for the Food & Beverage outlets. Smit will be leading the various departments related to the Rooms Division, including the Amstel Health & Fitness Club. The Executive Management Team now consists of three women and three men.

Hendrik Bosch: “I have the utmost confidence in Denise Cibert and Dorien Smit, who have already filled various management positions at our hotel and who have shown to possess the expertise, drive, flexibility and style that are essential for providing hospitality and service of the very highest quality. Our Executive Management Team has gained two strong members.”

Both women have been working at the Amstel Hotel for some time. Denise Cibert was hired as a Personnel Officer in 1999. After filling the position of Training Manager, she was appointed as Executive Housekeeper in 2005. Dorien Smit was hired as Duty Manager in 2003 and later worked in the position of Revenue Manager until she was promoted to Front Office Manager in 2007.

InterContinental Amstel Amsterdam has been regarded as the Netherlands’ most prestigious hotel since it opened its doors in 1867. The hotel has 79 rooms, six banqueting rooms and two restaurants – including Michelin-star restaurant La Rive – as well as a fully equipped Health & Fitness Club.
